FOR GENERAL RELEASE

1.0 Purpose of Report

- 1.1 This report recommends conferring Freedom of Entry to the City on NATO's Allied Rapid Reaction Corps (ARRC) in recognition of services rendered to the country and close links with the City.

2.0 Recommendations

- 2.1 Council is asked to RESOLVE that, pursuant to Section 249 (5) of the Local Government Act 1972, Freedom of Entry to the City is conferred on NATO's Allied Rapid Reaction Corps (ARRC).

3.0 Background and Key Issues

- 3.1 The Allied Rapid Reaction Corps (ARRC) is the United Kingdom's leading land warfare contribution to NATO, ready to command and control Allied forces on operations and for crisis response. Led by a British Lieutenant General, the multinational corps is held at high readiness, prepared to deploy to meet UK, EU, coalition or NATO Alliance requirements.
- 3.2 The ARRC was formed in October 1992 from the former 1st British Corps that had served in West Germany throughout the Cold War. It has since become NATO's most operationally experienced multinational corps, having spearheaded the Allied campaigns in Bosnia, Kosovo, and Afghanistan. Until 2010 the ARRC's headquarters was based in Rheindahlen, Germany before moving to its current location at Imjin Barracks, Gloucester. September 2020 marks the 10th anniversary of the Allied Rapid Reaction Corps moving into our local community.
- 3.3 While Imjin Barracks are outside of the City's administrative boundaries, the ARRC are considered by all to be an important part of the community and they look to Gloucester as their home, with a number of their officers living within the City. Furthermore, two previous Commanding Generals, Lieutenant General Sir James Bucknall and Lieutenant General Tim Evans have been awarded the Mayor's Medal, recognising their efforts to integrate the ARRC into the local community.

3.4 The ARRC contributes to the life of the City in numerous ways. The base is named after one of the most significant battle honours of the Gloucestershire Regiment and they host an annual Imjin Dinner to recognise the importance of the battle. The ARRC play a leading role in Armed Forces Day celebrations and Remembrance Sunday and, despite their very demanding workload, they are steadfast supporters of all City events, entering teams in the Dragon Boat Racing, competing in the 10km and more. They are very strong supporters of the Soldiers of Gloucestershire Museum, Gloucester Cathedral and Gloucester Rugby, and maintain strong links with our Civic Leaders through various events.

3.5 In light of the above, the City Council deems it appropriate to confer Freedom of Entry on the ARRC in recognition of services rendered to the country and the close links with the City and places on record its thanks to the ARRC for all it has achieved internationally and for the contribution its presence makes to Gloucester.

4.0 Social Value Considerations

4.1 There are no social value considerations.

5.0 Environmental Implications
